

THE CARE OF ANTTIINA FURNITURE WITH OSMO COLOR WOOD WAX

The Osmo Color wood waxes are based on vegetable oils and vegetable waxes from nature. Wood waxes contain sunflower oil, soybean oil, thistle oil, and candelilla as well as carnauba wax. These ingredients form a hard-wearing and water-resistant coating on the furniture.

A damp cleaning cloth is suitable for the normal weekly or daily cleaning. If necessary, mild and neutral detergent, such as a dishwashing liquid, can be used. Strong acids or bases, or detergents containing abrasives are not appropriate for cleaning.

The best choice for cleaning and maintenance is OSMO COLOR LIQUID WAX CLEANER, a mixture of vegetable waxes and aroma free dissolvent which removes even the toughest grime on a wooden surface. Shake the tin properly and pour some wax straight onto the surface, or on a cleaning cloth, and apply it. Allow the wax to stand for a few minutes and wipe it off with a clean fluff-free cloth which doesn't stain. The surface can be polished after one hour when it is dry. For furniture maintenance you need approx. one litre of OSMO COLOR LIQUID WAX CLEANER per 50 square metres which is about one tablespoon per square metre.

On worn surfaces you can also apply OSMO COLOR WOOD WAX FINISH TRANSPARENT no. 3101 (or POLYX OIL no. 3032) which is a colorless product containing a large amount of oil. When the piece of furniture has been cleaned, the transparent wood wax is applied with a quality varnish brush or fluff-free cloth which doesn't stain. When the treatment is repeated you'll need about one litre per 25 square metres, i. e. one decilitre per 2,5 square metres. The wax finish dries in about two hours in room temperature, but before using the furniture make sure that the surface is not sticky. When the surface is dry, it can be polished with e. g. a coarse cotton cloth.

NOTE! OSMO COLOR WOOD WAX FINISH TRANSPARENT HAS VEGETABLE OILS WHICH DRY BY OXIDATION. THERE IS A DANGER OF SELF-INFLAMMATION OF STAINED CLOTHS, ETC. DO NOT SQUEEZE THE CLOTHS INTO TIGHT BUNDLES. DISPOSE OF APPROPRIATELY AFTER USE.
